

CITY CHURCH FAMILY,

Things are changing very quickly at this unprecedented time with the current pandemic. At City Church, we want to pursue a wise, God-honoring approach to minimize the negative effects of the coronavirus in our community. Our leadership team had decided to suspend all church activities on our church campus until further notice.

City Church will not be holding services in the church building on Sundays at this time. We will be streaming the 11am service on our website and on our Facebook page.

Right now, you may be feeling a little isolated. Our team is working diligently behind the scenes to figure out what our church community will look like when it can't be in person. Keep an eye on email and our Facebook page for announcements and invitations!

This is a time where many may be fearful and hurting. Just as fear can be contagious, so can faith. We would encourage you to pray with your family and to come along side those in your sphere of influence who you have connections with. We believe this is how the church will rise up in the midst of this situation.
